Happenings of Local Interest to Our Readers.

Hoover Fund Benefit at Plymouth on March 12—Rev. Dr. G. W. Tupper to Leave Cold Point Church on April 1—Electric Line Troubles—Miscellaneous.

A musical will be given at the Plymouth Meeting Evangelical church on Saturday evening, March 12, at 8 o'clock, for the benefit of the Hoover Fund to feed the starving children of Europe. The visiting artists will be: Mrs. Myrtle Piper Lutz, pianist; Mr. Lima Horton Macmillan, soprano; Mr. William Macmillan, violinist; Mr. Robert Somerton Stanley, baritone. These artists have very kindly donated their services for this occasion, and it is hoped a large audience will greet them. Tickets cost 35 cents and can be obtained at either of the stores in Plymouth Meeting.

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home, near the Eight Square school house, was held the funeral of the late Samuel Wood, aged 83 years, a well known resident of Plymouth township, whose death occurred on Tuesday, Feb. 22. Burial was made in Cold Point cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Atkins, on Saturday, at Plymouth Meeting, celebrated the fifth anniversary of their wedding. Relatives and friends assembled and made the happy day one long to be remembered.

Leidy Renner, of Germantown pike, upper Plymouth, has recovered from a severe attack of pleurisy.

The Plymouth township school will meet in regular session next Monday evening when the building question and lot site will again receive consideration. It is probable that the school board will take the question of the site at Ivy Rock, which seems the only recourse remaining for the board.

Last Saturday evening a large audience crowded the Plymouth Congregational church to witness the performance of the eighth grade pupils most creditably presenting Shakespeare's play, "The Merchant of Venice," which was really portrayed in very appropriate style and with credit to both performers and teachers. The amateurs were given most enthusiastic and well deserved applause.

Cold Point grange is busily proceeding with the work of remodeling the stone stable in the rear of the former Hickorytown hotel property. The old lean-to has been removed, and the main portion of the building is being remodeled and mortared. The first floor will be finished up first for meeting purposes, and later the second story will be arranged for committee purposes, cloak rooms, etc. Several thousand dollars will be expended on the improvement, which, when completed, will be one of the most modern, convenient and complete of any of the granges.

More than a year ago the Counties Gas and Electric company extended a line of poles on the Plymouth and Black Horse road off of Belvoir avenue towards the Ridge pike, extending to the township school. The company evidently misinterpreted for an order to run the line a request from the township school board for information as to the probable cost of such an electric line. After the poles were planted the company discovered its mistake and the wiring was never done. In the meantime the residents along the Narcessa and Cold Point road for the service for several years, and in addition to the dozen patrons along the line there is the Hendren milk cooling and pasteurizing plant at Narcessa, which desires the current for motor purposes and which would be a customer of considerable extent. The extension of this service has been delayed for several years and very little satisfaction is secured from the company as to the cause of delay.

Rev. Dr. G. W. Tupper, having resigned the pastorate at the Cold Point Baptist church, will vacate the pulpit on April 1. He has been pastor for several years. The congregation will receive applicants for the pulpit and later select another pastor.

FARMERS' CLUB AND NEIGHBORS.

Community Meeting in Wilgus' Hall, Harboro.

Splendid Program Full of Interest—Addresses by Bernard Oesterlenski, of Farm School, and Dr. Spellman, of the Farm Journal.

The annual community meeting held by the Horsham Farmers' club and the Neighbors in Wilgus' hall, Harboro, was called to order by the president, Mr. Michener, on the morning of Feb. 23. The welcoming address was given by the president, an eminently patriotic speech. The singing of "America" was given by the company, with Mrs. Barclow at the piano.

Ezra Carrell, president of the borough council, responded to the address of welcome. He said the important question of our country is how to keep the people on the farm, and these community meetings are a wonderful help toward that end. Community singing, "The Old Folks at Home," Bernard Oesterlenski, of National Farm school, in a most pleasing talk, advocated the status of the small town the America, which compares so favorably with the conditions in Europe because here he finds the same civilization as in the greatest cities. Mrs. Carrell, who is greatly interested, about 25 per cent of the students at the present are not Jewish, but they have just the same advantages. Agriculture today is not an attractive proposition to a boy who is commercially minded. What we desire to do is remedy this. Mr. Rudolph Blankenship told of her motor trip last summer which extended through the season. She reached California; and came back, having gone and returned a most winding way, four months and 29 days, none of the four members of the party had any sickness and "nothing happened." They started June 2 and reached home October 20.

President Michener called the session to order in the afternoon. Community singing, "My Old Kentucky Home," was given by the company, with Mr. Michener at the piano.

Mrs. Edward Blackman, of Solebury Club read "The Early History of the Pilgrims." This was a rare treat. Dr. Ellen Potter held the audience spell-bound for an hour as she told of the Nation's care of children. Community singing, "Home, Sweet Home," was given by the company, with Mr. G. R. Rommel spoke upon live stock breeding. He began by saying he could not imagine a better preface to a talk in live stock production than the address by Dr. Potter and Mr. Rommel. He said that his address was "Home, Sweet Home." His address was interesting, scientific and most instructive.

Ezra Carrell president a resolution, "This party goes on record as opposing the daylight saving bill." Report of the executive committee for March meeting of Horsham Farmers' club. Refer to questions, "Under the present and prospective conditions, financial and otherwise, which will be the most profitable crops for the farmers of this section to grow the coming year?" Frank Carrell, discussed "In sowing clover seed, what proportion of clover seed should be used, and does it pay to sow red clover in this section?" Newton E. Wood.

"What influence, if any will the woman voter have on purifying politics?" Alma Walton. Give the story of the Patriotic War of Easter day and the significance of its observance? Howard Halliwell, "Time and place of next meeting, Saturday, March 11, at the home of Howard Jarrett."

The evening session was called to order at 7:30. A piano solo by Misses Anna Logan and Mary Park was first number. Mrs. Elmer Pownall read a delightful essay which she decided to call "Bubbles." Mrs. Pownall was the representative sent by Northampton Farmers' club.

"How can a farmer obtain necessary prices?" was the topic discussed by Dr. Spellman, of the Farm Journal. He said farmers have never gotten as much for wheat as it cost them to raise, while they have obtained a fair price for corn. It took him 15 years of hard work to be able to determine what product cost. When we went into the war there was a terrible boost in labor and the price of feed the farmers had to buy. When did a farmer get back the money his milk cost him? One reason why farming has not developed as it should is because the farmer does not make wages. Mr. Spellman gave a great deal of information.

"How MacMurray harvested in the rain with short help," by Ezra Carrell, was listened to with interest and delight. Community singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Mrs. Richard Barton and son Horace who have been confined to their rooms by illness, are both much improved. Walter M. Halliwell, who suffered a relapse from his recent former illness, is again able to be out.

The family of Henry Williams, who have been confined to their rooms by illness for the past fortnight are convalescing.

Thomas Conard, of Maple Glen, who resided on the R. L. Taylor farm forty-two years ago, visited friends here on Friday.

During the height of the snow storm two weeks ago the deer in Mrs. Rieger's woods did not take refuge in their sheds. When the snow fell to depth of several inches, the deer dug away the snow and lay down on the ground where they could see was their heads protruding through the snow. The only species of trees the deer destroy by scraping the bark off are the dogwood. If anything disturbs them at night, the older deer give an alarm, which sounds like the barking of a dog.

Frederick Pletcher and family moved last week to the house formerly occupied by Henry Hamel.

Mr. Bomboy moved from Pine Run row to the Sycamore farm.

Mrs. Samuel Diodato has been on the sick list.

Mrs. Samuel Dailey, of Penllyn, spent Saturday with William Cardell and family.

The creek was level with its bank on Sunday at this place.

PARENTS AND TEACHERS MEET.

Interesting Session Held in Ambler Town Hall.

Largely Attended and Much Interest Manifested—Address by Mrs. Walter Greenwood, of Coatesville—Officers to Be Elected Next Monday Evening.

If plans mature now under way Ambler and adjoining school districts will have a parent-teacher association. A movement in this direction was started at a largely attended meeting held in Ambler town hall, on Tuesday evening and over which presided Rev. Ralph L. Mayberry, pastor of Mt. Pleasant Baptist church and who is a member of the Ambler school board. This movement for a parent teacher association was launched some time ago by a number of ladies of Ambler and vicinity who are interested in school and child welfare. The large attendance at the meeting on Tuesday evening indicates the much interest is being manifested by the mothers of the community.

During the evening an entertaining feature, two enjoyable numbers were sung by Miss Mary Wilson, teacher of music in the Ambler high school, and Miss Hedrick, one of her pupils, was pianist.

Following introductory remarks by Mr. Mayberry, the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Walter Greenwood, of Coatesville was introduced. Mrs. Greenwood gave an inspiring talk and outlined the purpose and objects of a parent-teacher association. Among the aims and purposes of the association the speaker said are: "Better schools, better homes and a better community in which to live. It will aid the intelligent consideration of matters concerning the child's welfare and in addition it will assist teachers and officials of the school in solving many problems that mean advancement. It relieves rather than adds to the work of the teacher." Mrs. Greenwood said.

"To study community conditions is also one of the aims," the speaker said, "that the child's needs may be better understood," and then she closed by outlining the many pitfalls that may be encountered, and if care is taken it may mean the death of the association.

When the question of forming a parent-teacher association was put a unanimous vote was given, but when it came to the election of officers there were objections, which were led by Dr. Charles Mehler, who stated that more satisfaction may be obtained by waiting at least one week before electing officers. This was finally agreed upon, after a discussion. Mrs. A. J. Williams was appointed chairman of a nominating committee, and it was decided to meet next Monday evening in the Ambler high school building.

In addition to the quartet, Alpiigni, known as the man of mystery, will also appear. The automobile belonging to W. L. Bean, which was stolen from Edward Halliwell's garage and later recovered in Fairmount park, is now being repaired at Lindberg's garage, Gwynedd Square. When the machine was found by the police the head lights had been removed and the rear part of the machine was damaged, which is now being repaired. There are persons of the opinion that the theft of automobiles from the garage is the work of some local person, who will likely be apprehended by the police if more attempts are made.

The monthly meeting of the West Point Fire company will be held next Monday evening and it is hoped that the attendance of the members will be large, as considerable business is to be transacted.

At an afternoon session of the organization at its headquarters, 1317 North Broad street, James H. Patton, secretary of the legislative committee, denounced Lewis F. Post, Assistant Secretary of Labor, as a man "unfit for the position."

WE ARE TAKING OUR LOSS.

Says She's Wife No. 2; Brings Divorce Action.

Attorney Frank X. Renninger, has brought action in divorce in behalf of Minerva Elizabeth Unsell Pfomme, of Abington, against Frederick Henry Pfomme, on the ground that the latter had contracted a bigamous marriage with her.

It is alleged in the libel that Mrs. Pfomme, since the date of her marriage, the 15th of last November, has been informed that her husband had a wife living, one Nellie Vanscottin, whom he had married April 26, 1916, in Philadelphia.

At the time of their marriage, the libellant asserts, the respondent represented himself to her as a single man.

R. R. Stations Broken Into.

One night recently the Perkiomen railroad stations at Schwenksville, Graterford and Ironbridge were broken into by thieves. Nothing of value was obtained at either station. The penny slot machine at Schwenksville station was looted, and some small change was taken from the cash drawer.

Cutting Down Trees.

Great activity has been going on at New Britain the last few weeks in the way of cutting down trees.

Some of them have become top heavy and decayed, therefore were a menace to pedestrians. Especially is it regretted to see the old buttonwood tree cut down on the corner opposite the store. Probably it was older than any one living and was a landmark.

Ambler Men Leave Poor Farm.

James Sabella and Paul Sabella, Ambler residents, were released from the county poor farm, and presented with $153.75 each, as pay for their labor from July 2, 1920, to the date of their discharge.

The men were paroled from the Montgomery county jail after being sentenced to 18 months for assault and battery. Both made application to work on the farm, and the law gave them 75 cents for each day thus employed.

Rex Estate Adjudication.

Judge Solly, of orphans' court, handed down an adjudication in the estate of Margaret D. Rex, late of Springfield. The balance for distribution is $329.87, of which $1000 is awarded in trust for the life benefit of Edith D. Whitten and the residue $229.87, to Matilda D. Sorenson.

A birthday party was given on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Stahlman at 1401 3rd Avenue, which was attended by all her many friends. Many games were played by the children and the winners were awarded prizes.

Miss Stahlman was the recipient of many gifts, among which was a white poodle puppy which afforded the children much amusement. A large birthday cake, ice cream, candy and favors were served and the children had a dawning soiree. The afternoon was pleasantly spent and the guests departed at five o'clock.

The fact that there were no prosecutions for failure to remove snow from pavements, following the heavy snowfall of Sunday, Feb. 21, shows that the salutary lessons of last winter have not been forgotten. There seems to be a valid reason why the pavements cannot be kept clear, the borough does not have the funds to pay for the removal of snow. The borough fathers have never been unreasonable in the enforcement of these regulations, which after all are for the greatest good to the greatest number. We notice, through our exchanges, that some nearby towns have been making bitter complaints over snow-clogged pavements. Judging from Ambler's experience, complaints will materialize nothing, and the most effective remedy to pursue is to take a firm stand in enforcing the ordinances, and after the start is made all must agree, as in Ambler, that the way to secure the full advantages of the borough laws is to enforce them.

Like a clap of thunder from a clear sky Corporal Hanes and Privates Bohlen and Bradley, assisting local officers, descended upon one of the many gambling places in South Ambler last Saturday night about 10 o'clock and as a result 14 or 15 of the inmates, together with the proprietor, were placed under arrest and marched by the officers to the office of Justice of the Peace Urban.

The inmates were mostly colored men coming from Penryn, West Ambler, North street and Woodland avenue and when the police entered the place, which is located on Chestnut street near Butler avenue, there was a big crap game in progress. However, Corporal Hanes had laid his plans well and despite the fact that a man was on watch at the door the inmates were taken by surprise.

After an examination was made, it was found to be broken. Mr. Bowers was taken to his home suffering from shock and the far he sustained. At this writing he is reported to be slowly recovering and will soon be about again.

A Statement by the Phila. Suburban Gas & Electric Co.

TO OUR CONSUMERS:

The whole matter of this Company's Rates, with full facts appertaining thereto is now in the hands of the Public Service Commission. This Body, representing our Commonwealth, is above coercion by any individual or corporation. It is, therefore, quite irrelevant for this Company to enter into any sort of a controversy with the general public on the question of Rates.

It is apparent, however, that this Company's policies are being unjustly attacked by certain parties and interests; that our rates are being misconstrued in point of fairness; and that the facts relating to our operating costs and our earnings are being widely misrepresented by the uninformed. We, therefore, with reluctance direct your attention to a few salient points.

Due to the extraordinary and unexpected increase in the price of coal and gas oil during the Summer of 1920, our earnings were so adversely affected that in some cases the actual operating costs were not earned, and through this decrease in the earning power, our credit was impaired, thereby hampering us in the matter of extending our facilities. On account of these conditions we instituted rate increases properly filed, advertised and posted in accordance with law. Remonstrances were received and hearings accordingly were held before the Public Service Commission. At these hearings it developed that a satisfactory determination could not be decided upon until a complete valuation of the property had been made.

This valuation the Commission ordered us to produce and it was further ordered that the inventory be completed by July 1, 1921, and the valuation finished by October 1, 1921. We therefore engaged the Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation, Engineers of world wide reputation, to make the valuation. Present indications are that the work will be completed considerably in advance of the time limits prescribed, and we feel satisfied that the valuation will more than justify the rates now in force.

We stand ready at all times to meet our consumers in any reasonable demand they make, but in the light of present conditions, we deem it proper to rest our case with the Commission and await their action. We cannot, therefore, in fairness to either the public or ourselves, become engaged in an unofficial hearing of our case.

MORRIS W. STROUD, President.

February 21, 1921.

Owing to the meeting of protest against the gas rates of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric company to be held in the town hall this Friday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Wissahickon Fire company will be postponed until Friday evening of next week, March 11.

"The Old District School" and "Sir Percival, a Boy Knight," will be presented in the Ambler opera house on Tuesday evening, March 22, at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets are 25 cents.

Wm. J. Devine, superintendent of Lindenwood farms, is tearing down for Dr. R. V. Mattison, owner the large frame barn on the Haywood estate, a portion of which property Dr. Mattison purchased last summer. He has been improving and remodeling the mansion house, and is now engaged in removing the barn to his Lindenwood farm operation, where it will be re-erected and used for storage of general farm purposes. The former large frame poultry house, also a part of the purchase, will be removed to the property of Robert H. Anderson adjoining where it will be remodeled into a garage.

Kidnapper's Mind is now Improved.
August Pasquale, serving a life term in the Eastern State Penitentiary for the kidnapping of thirteen month old Blakely Coughlin, and who became temporarily insane, was due to die when he attacked a negro prisoner, is said to be improved.

Warden McKenty said Pasquale had no grievance against the negro and did not know him. "The attack with a dinner knife apparently was due to a fit of insanity. He shook like a leaf after the attack and had a nervous breakdown from which he has recovered," the warden explained.

Pasquale was arrested by state police near Egg Harbor, N. J., August 22, while he was waiting for an additional ransom from the kidnapped baby's father. He later confessed to kidnapping the baby from his home at Curran Terrace, Norristown, June 2, and said he threw the baby in the river.

Doylestown to Erect Monument as a Memorial.
Without further delay or debate Doylestown will proceed to get its memorial for the soldiers—a monument to be erected at the northwestern corner of the Court House Park, Broad and Main streets, providing permission can be gotten to place it there, and to cost as much as the citizens of the community will provide.

Delays which have been unavoidable were explained recently by Chairman John Yardley at meeting of the Great War Veterans Memorial Association, held in the Atkinson Building.

"This committee," said Chairman Yardley, "has been severely criticized for its delay in getting a suitable memorial, and for lack of interest, but there have been many extenuating circumstances. There was the difference of opinion as to the kind of memorial to be gotten, and after that many things intervened when it had been planned to go ahead with a drive for funds. We were asked to hold off first for the fire company's fair, and then, respectively, for the Red Cross drive, the Armenian drive, the drive for the sufferers of Europe and the soldiers' fair. Now, I believe, it is time to go ahead, and the committee has definite ideas, apparently, as to what should be done.

Plumstead Inventor Tests His Snow Plow
Plumsteadville folks saw a test made on Feb. 21 of a tractor snow-plow invented by Abraham L. Meyers a carpenter living there, and the showing made on his first attempt with a wooden model makes Mr. Meyers confident that he has struck the right idea.

The snow plow device is on the principle of a hay-loader, lifting the snow and throwing it out of the roadway.

On the test made Monday some difficulty was experienced with the steering gear of the caterpillar tractor used, but Mr. Meyers believes this difficulty can be overcome. He was reluctant, however, to discuss the construction of the plow in detail, or to say anything about proposed changes in construction to overcome slight faults detected.

Poultry Law is After Gunners, not Autoists.
Any person shooting at, killing or attempting to kill any poultry or domestic animal without the consent of the owner will be guilty of a misdemeanor under the provisions of a bill, introduced by Senator Schantz, of Lehigh county, which is now before the assembly.

The bill is aimed at hunters who put poultry of farmers either to test their marksmanship or to obtain some poultry cheap, but it is so worded that many persons have construed its provisions to apply to motorists who maliciously or inadvertently run down chickens while speeding along country roads. It carries a maximum fine of $100 and a sentence of three months imprisonment in default of the fine.

Sportsmen and motorists connected the game commission with the bill, because it requires that notice of all convictions shall be forwarded to the commission, and in case where a hunter is convicted his license is to be revoked and not issued again for a period of five years.

Extension of the bear in Pennsylvania would follow the passage of a bill introduced by Representative J. Walter Wells, of Potter county, who comes from a section of the state where bear are particularly numerous just now. It is an amendment to the law protecting bear, and provides that within sixty days after a petition has been presented to the game commission containing 200 signatures of persons of any county engaged in agriculture, stock raising and bee culture, the county is to be thrown open for bear hunting for a period of two years, with no limit set on the bag.

May Become Pastor of Trinity Lutheran
If the members of Trinity Lutheran church, Norristown confirm the recommendation of their church council at a congregational meeting to be held March 2, an effort will be made to secure Rev. Dr. J. C. Seggers, D. D. of Wilmington, N. C., to fill the vacancy in Trinity's pastorate, caused by the resignation of Rev. A. B. McIntosh, D. D., pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, Lancaster, Pa.

Dr. Seggers is at present pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, in the southern city, but is no stranger in this vicinity, having been pastor of Trinity church, Reading, and St. John's church, Easton, in the earlier years of his ministry. At that time he was one of the prominent figures in the ministerium of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Seggers occupied Trinity's pulpit, some time ago, relieving Dr. McIntosh, while the latter's guest on a Sunday in January; but of being a candidate for the vacancy, it is not known whether he will accept a call, assuming that it is tendered by the local congregation.

Indictments Attacked.
Attorneys for John Martin, proprietor of the Collegeville Hotel, and John Snovel, his partner, filed motions with the Montgomery county court to have quashed the bills of indictment against them. They are charged with manslaughter and violation of the liquor laws.

These charges are the result of an automobile accident in which, according to the return of the coroner, the death of William W. Bath "resulted from skull fracture, caused by an accidental running into an auto truck while he was driving an automobile, when alleged to be intoxicated, at Eagleville, October 23." The coroner's return states that the car in which the liquor was purchased at the Collegeville Hotel. It is said the indictment sets forth no offenses committed against the liquor laws of Pennsylvania. [The indictment alleges violation of the Volstead act, and act of Congress passed to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment, called the prohibition amendment, and that no act of the Legislature having been passed to enforce said measure.]

The Parking of Motor Cars.
In Pennsylvania a bill is to be presented at the present session of the state legislature empowering councils of cities and of boroughs to pass ordinances designating brightly lighted districts as "light zones" within which cars may be parked at night without the necessity of keeping their lights lighted. The bill will provide that the limits of these areas be distinctly marked by appropriate signs.

Historical Society.
The annual meeting of the Montgomery County Historical society was held in the Historical Hall, Public Square, Norristown.

The following were elected to serve as officers during the ensuing year: President, Emeritus, Dr. T. R. Hughes; Vice Presidents: A. Severn Regar, Mrs. A. Conrad Jones, William M. Gearhart, Recording Secretary: George P. Drech, Esq., Corresponding Secretary: Mrs. Martha S. Harty, Financial Secretary: Mrs. Wm. M. Gearhart, Treasurer: Dr. W. H. Reed, Librarian: William Summers, Analyst: Miss Clara A. Beck, Trustees: Franklin A. Sticker, Mrs. A. Conrad Jones, Herbert Ganss, Miss Katherine Preston and Dr. Herman Burgin.

The death of the following members during the past year was reported: J. P. Hale Jenkins, Ellwood Roberts, Samuel S. Hartman and Abram G. Grater.

Farm School Graduates 25.
To make the country a good enough place in which to live and make the life of a farmer rich among the leading vocations today, was the keynote of the addresses delivered before several hundred persons attending the twentieth annual Commencement Exercises of the National Farm School, Doylestown, on Feb. 22.

Twenty-five students received diplomas recently, having completed a three-year course in scientific and practical agriculture. The work has been different than in any other school in this country, in that the cost of the student has been relatively nothing. Board, tuition and clothes bills have been paid by the school, which is self supporting.

Ivyland Farm Auction.
Sweet corn seed brought 27 cents a quart a few days ago and an auction of farm crops and machinery held by Joseph J. Carrell, near Ivyland, Mr. Carrell has given up farming and will move to Haboro before entering other business.

Prices brought by some of the things sold are as follows: 800 bushels of corn, 85 to 95 cents per bushel, oats, 59 to 69 cents; mow of hay, $195; pair of horses, $214; low wagon, $80; corn wicker, $40; hay loader, $18; reaper and binder, $106; plow, $61; engine, $39; potatoes, 75 cents per bushel; potato planter, $30; chickens, $2.25 apiece; corn planter, $67.50; hay tedder, $19; hay wagon, $91; bob sled, $20.

Arthur V. Savage Post, A. L.
Arthur V. Savage Post, No. 100, of Wyndmoor, held its regular monthly meeting Feb. 22nd, in the Fire Hall. A large majority of the members were present. Almost all present members have paid their dues, but the Post is still after a few who have not as yet joined the Legion. Some requests were received for application blanks for membership.

A request was received from a Girl Scout Troop to send one of the Legion to their meetings as a drill instructor. The request was appreciated, but it threw the boys into a quandary as to just whom to send and it was decided to think the matter over and take action at the next meeting.

The post will hold its first dance in the Fire hall on March 31st. A committee of arrangements was appointed. Tickets will be 50c, admitting one.

The ladies of the local Red Cross very kindly provided refreshments.

—After deliberating but 20 minutes a Doylestown jury awarded Samuel L. Coleman of Perkasie, $2000 damages for injuries received to his left foot in a train accident at Mt. Carmel, in July, 1920.

Found Dead in Home.

Mrs. Rebecca Shelmire, widow of George Shelmire, of Doylestown, was found dead in her home on the Buckingham pike near Centreville Monday morning, Feb. 21, by Walter Vanlunne. She had been missing since Thursday.

The deceased, who was 70 years old, had been living alone in the house for several years.

Death is attributed to natural causes. The woman is said to have been dead for about two days.

Telford Co-operative Association Formed.
The Telford Co-operative Association came into being at a meeting of progressive in this field of endeavor of that section at the Telford school.

The association organized with 25 members, the showing for a starter of what will undoubtedly be one of the greatest steps in the direction of placing the immediate farm section on the high level that it rightfully deserves.

The purpose of the organization is for the co-operative buying and co-operative selling of farm products and supplies. In fact everything for or from the dairy, in the poultry yard, and in general farming will be taken up by the association to give the man who puts his direct effort into his endeavors, the benefit to be derived by the joining in his fellows' interests and co-operating for mutual advantage.

Facts on Income Tax Everyone Should Know.
The revenue act of 1918 under which the income tax for the year 1920 is being collected provides that in the tax-payer's returns gross income from whatever source shall be included, "but" The word "but" is important, because following it is a list of items which are specifically exempt from taxation. Among these are:

The value of property acquired as a gift by will or by inheritance. The income from such property, however, is taxable.

Proceeds of life insurance policies, returns of premiums on life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract. Amounts received through accident or health insurance, or under workmen's compensation acts, plus the amount of damages received, whether by suit or agreement.

Interest on obligations of any state or any city, town, county or village, and the District of Columbia. Interest on obligations of the United States is exempt from taxation, except that interest on obligations issued after September 1, 1917, is exempt only to the extent provided in the Liberty loan acts.

Interest on securities issued under the provisions of the Federal farm loan act of July 17, 1916.

Interest on Liberty bonds to the par value of $5,000 is exempt from all taxation. Holders of large amounts of Liberty bonds are advised to consult their bankers or collectors of internal revenue as to their exemptions.

None of the above items is taxable (with the exception of securities issued under the provisions of the Federal farm loan act and Liberty bonds), but must be shown in the taxpayer's return.

Persons in active military or naval service are entitled to an exemption of $3,500 from amounts received for such services.

This exemption is in addition to the personal exemptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons and heads of families.

Salaries paid employees of a State or "political subdivision thereof," such as a city, county, town or hamlet are also exempt from taxes. This applies to school teachers, policemen, firemen, and all such employees, but does not apply to employees of Federal Government or to employees of the District of Columbia, part of whose salary is received from the Federal Government.

With respect to any taxable income received in 1920 from other sources the taxpayer is subject to all provisions of the law and must file a return on or before March 15, 1921, if such other income amounted to $1,000 or $2,000 or more according to his status as a single or married person.

PLAN MODERN B. & L. LAWS.

Address by the Banking Commissioner.

Hampered by Restrictions in Investment—Need for State Supervision of Loans on Real Estate—Other Features.

Need of "legislative treatment" for building and loan associations in the State is expressed in the annual report of Banking Commissioner Fisher covering the activities of such associations in 1919. The Commissioner declares that the laws applying to these associations should be revised and codified, removing some of the restrictions which limit work and giving the State Banking Department more power to supervise their activities.

Commissioner Fisher refers to the fact that the laws applying to building associations remain almost unchanged from the original shape in which they should have been put on the statute books. He advocates changes which will permit them to function more freely, and at the same time will correct evils and defects which have developed in their tremendous growth. In part, his report says:

"Buildings and loans had their origin in this state and are still operating under practically the same laws which first authorized their creation. Owing to their great development and the peculiar needs which they serve they should be subject to a more restricted and more effective treatment. They are considerably restricted in their powers to finance themselves in periods of active demand and to make proper investment of their surplus funds in approved liquid securities when the needs of the shareholders are not sufficient to use the available funds.

"In former years this department restricted the issue of full-paid stock. The controversy was finally settled by a decision of the Supreme Court validating such issue. This decision has been helpful in enabling the associations to meet the recent extraordinary call for money to build and purchase homes. The rights and powers of the associations in making issues of stocks should be clearly defined and limited by legislative enactment. No sound reason can be advanced for unreasonable restriction upon their power to finance themselves to the extent of their reasonable needs, so long as they keep within the limits of safety. With enlarged powers they should be subjected to the same supervision as banks and trust companies. Their growing importance and their own interest would seem to dictate such policy.

"The laws governing the organization and incorporation of building and loan associations should be made to harmonize with those controlling other financial corporations. Before charters are granted the department should be clothed with power to make preliminary investigation to determine the character and ability of the incorporators to carry on successfully the business of the association.

"Legislation is also required to accomplish needed corrections. There should be an oversight of the bonding of officers, and the accounting systems employed by the associations and the care and safeguarding of securities and records. Second mortgages which are often used to cover the profits of dealers, should be prohibited or at least greatly restricted. Particular attention should be given to the prohibition of loans and interlocking directorates should be strictly regulated. Large syndicated loans almost inevitably result in diverting funds from the primary purpose which the building and loans serve. Such loans are made possible through manipulation by interlocking directorates or officers. Each association should perform the individual function for which it was created.

"The practice of officers, or those who control associations, of charging commissions on loans is most reprehensible and should be made a misdemeanor, subject to proper provision for the payment of all legitimate expenses. The value of real estate taken as security should also be subjected, in proper cases, to valuation by the department. In these days of high prices there is great danger that loans will be made on inflated values. Heretofore the department has had no authority to inquire into the value of the security taken by the associations. The grant of such power to the department will have a restraining effect on excessive loans and is a vital necessity in determining the solvency of an association.

"In view of all these considerations I am of opinion that the laws governing the organization and operation of building and loan associations should be revised and codified to enable them to function more freely and effectively and to correct the evils and defects which have naturally grown up with the system.

"At the last session of Congress a bill was introduced into both Houses for the creation of a system of banks to be known as 'home loan banks' the expressed purpose of which is to aid in financing and constructing homes. The limits of this report will not permit of kindred associations.

An analysis of this scheme, shows that it is somewhat analogous to the Federal Reserve System, excepting that membership in the proposed banks is open exclusively to building and loan or

"With a revision of the State loan or advantage provided by the proposed Federal system can be provided, without driving these associations, which so intimately concern the life of the people of the State, under Federal control. The Federal control of the Federal Reserve System, now numbering in the neighborhood of 8000, with an aggregate invested capital of more than $2,000,000,000, is an act in step in the direction of centralization and should not be made necessary by the failure of the States to deal with these home making associations in a liberal and enlightened spirit."

Why Colds are Dangerous.

It is the serious disease that colds lead to that make them dangerous. They prepare the system for the reception and development of the germs of influenza, pneumonia, tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough and measles. You are much more likely to contract these diseases when you have a cold. For that reason you should get rid of every cold as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will help you. It is widely known as a cure for bad colds.

DROP IN PRODUCE NO BOON.

Retailers Now Reaping From the Public.

Wholesalers Are Overstocked But Prices Remain at Old Level—New York Herald Says Farmer Is Always the Loser.

Are retail dealers in fruits and vegetables giving customers the benefit of the present low wholesale prices? Dr. Eugene H. Porter, State Commissioner of Foods and Markets, raised the question in a discussion of the pronounced fall of wholesale prices and of the consequent plight of the farmer. He notes, too, that newspaper publicity discourses profiteering in food.

"Wholesale prices for fruits and vegetables have gone down so low in the New York market in the last few weeks that many farmers who shipped produce there have received nothing in return but a bill for the balance of the freight," the Commissioner said.

"Not only have prices declined to the point where the farmer is getting little or nothing for what he produces after transportation charges are paid but even at the low prices the demand is limited. Stores of commission merchants in the Washington street wholesale section are filled with perishable produce they are unable to sell even at pre-war prices. Jobbers, retailers and hawksters are buying in limited quantities, from day to day, and the consuming public, for some reason or other, seems to be eating less than usual. Farmers and wholesale dealers believe this situation is due to the fact that the retail trade is not giving people the benefit of the low wholesale prices."

FARMERS ARE SUFFERERS.

Commissioner Porter said farmers all over the country are suffering such severe losses that they are experiencing great difficulty in financing their operations for next season. Many are planning to reduce their acreage and abandon Southern growers are particularly hard hit. A grower in Sanford, Fla., shipped a carload of 400 crates of lettuce, selling in New York for $339.48. The freight alone amounted to $329.75, and including war tax, cartage and commission brought the shipper's expense up to a total of $491.65. The grower actually owed a bill of $152.17 to the New York dealer. A grower in Laredo, Tex., sent a carload of 756 bushel baskets of spinach to New York. The shipper brought the freight on the market. Freight charges and other charges made the cost $720.66. California growers are similarly situated. For example, a shipment of 172 crates of celery from Knightstar, Cal., brought only $553, but the bill to the shipper came to $626.66. Farmers are actually paying commission men a premium for the privilege of shipping food to New York.

TRANSPORTATION KILLS PROFIT

"New York State farmers are in as bad a plight," continued Commissioner Porter. "Dozens of them have shipped carloads of cabbage, onions, potatoes, apples, carrots and celery to the market in the last few days only to receive net returns so small as to pay little more than the cost of production. A carload of 250 sacks of onions from central New York brought only 75 cents a 100 pound bag. When the freight charges of $80.15 were paid the farmer got a net return of about 25 cents a bag, and the bags cost him from 15 to 20 cents a piece.

"Potatoes which brought $3 to $5.50 a barrel this time last year are now selling at $2.25 a barrel of 180 pounds. A carload received from Genesee county this week brought the farmer, after he had paid freight and other charges, only about $1.50 a barrel. Last year's cabbage brought from $75 to $100 a ton wholesale. Now the farmer does well to get from $12 to $15 a ton."

Commissioner Porter said the publicity given to the big drop in the price of these wholesale was quickly followed by a reduction in the retail price. This turn brought such an increase in consumption that the wholesale price went up 8 cents recently and 10 cents the next day. At the close of the week's market fancy henmy white eggs sold for 57 to 58 cents a dozen, fancy browns at 45 to 46 cents, and fresh Western eggs at 43 to 44 cents. Butter went up one cent a pound to 45 cents for the finest salted, while unsalted was 46 to 48 cents.

She States It Mildly.

While suffering with a severe attack of the grip and threatened with pneumonia, M. E. Annie H. Cooley, of Allentown, Pa., began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was much relieved by its use. The pains in the chest soon disappeared, the cough came loose, expectation easy and in a short time she was as well as ever. Mrs. Cooley says she cannot speak too highly in praise of this remedy.

Opposes Step-Father.

William Miller, of Lansdale, attacked his wife recently, it is charged there came to her rescue, Charles R. Klatch, a son by a previous marriage. In consequence, Miller created his wife upon the step-son.

Sellersville Feeling the Business Crisis.

Owing to the depression in the large manufacturing plants throughout the country, most manufacturers of industrial machinery are at a stand still or making time through back orders in their particular lines. Most of the Sellersville manufacturers have felt the effect of the lull. The crisis seems to be passing though.

The Valley Forge Worsted mills which have been affected since the week closed down for a short time, resumed operations full again.

The General Cigar Co., which had been limited in working hours has again working full time.

The Gauge Works however, has curtailed its hours, the factory employees being divided into two shifts, alternating weekly in working and laying off.

The H. C. Nolan Co., has made a further curtailment of hours this week. The Kern Co., which has increased its working force to 30 hands is limited to 4 days a week.

Costello & Greenwald Shoe factory, which has been closed for some time, is resuming operations. The Wismer auto-body works is being enlarged by a good sized addition to the building to the rear of the paint shop.

The Eisenlohr cigar factory has thus far been unaffected by the depression.

The dog tax license fund of Berks for 1920 amounted to $13,717.

It would be hard to find a better remedy for constipation than Chamberlain's Tablets, for the best effect they should be taken immediately after supper. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

Woman Juror Rebuked for Being Late.

Mrs. Maude M. Eisenhart of Skipack has the distinction of being the first woman juror to be rebuked. She was not in court when her name was called. When she arrived Judge Schwartz asked her why she had not been punctual. She replied that she could not get through the crowd.

"We have a rule here that jurors forfeit their pay when not present at sessions," observed the judge, with some degree of emphasis.

"I shall hereafter obey the rules of the court," replied Mrs. Eisenhart.

Bucks Co. Has Largest Tree in the State.

So far as the department of forestry has yet learned Bucks county has the largest tree in this state. It is a sycamore 26 feet in diameter reported by Charles J. Smith, of Buckingham. Perhaps somewhere in the county there may be an even larger tree. If there is the department will be glad to learn about it. In the county, too, there are some trees whose interest historically and otherwise should be in the volume that is being prepared, "Big Trees in Pennsylvania." Up in Plumstead township there is a "twin tree" which should be reported, and doubtless elsewhere there are other curious growths which Chief Forester Pinchot desires to know about and include in his book.

It will be the credit of the county and the pride of its people to have these reported and recorded.

Ten Years For Mail to Travel Fourteen Miles.

A postcard was received at the East Greenville postoffice on a recent Wednesday evening mail train, dated April 19, 1911, at Schwenksville, Pa., addressed to Fred O. Young, East Greenville.

Mr. Young was in the grocery business there at that time, but retired some years ago and removed to Perkasie, where he resides at present. The distance from Schwenksville to East Greenville is fourteen miles, and it required nearly ten years to reach its destination.

The postal was forwarded to Mr. Young.

FORT WASHINGTON NEWS.

Items of Passing Interest Condensed in Short Paragraphs.

Ball Team to Remain in Montgomery County League—Formerly Arrested and Sent to Jail—St. Thomas' Church to Build—Fire Co. Activities—Miscellaneous.

Next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Lyceum hall building, White-marsh, will be held an election for six trustees and two auditors for the Union School in Whitmarsh.

Edward F. Roberts, local quarryman, has purchased two horses from Walker's bazaar, Norristown. During the heavy snow last week work at the local quarry was at a standstill, but operations have been resumed this week.

Morris Goldstein, who recently sold his property here, has moved to his recently purchased farm, the former Samuel Penrose property, south of Doylestown.

Charles Gillian has resumed work at his blacksmith shop after having been laid up with a cold.

Edward Edwards, who resided here with his daughter, Mrs. David Richards, was buried in Rose Hill cemetery last week. He was formerly a well known iron worker from Hopewell and moved here from Slatton.

Miss Josephine Taggart has arrived safely in Miami. After a stay in that and other parts of Florida she will come north to Southern Pines, N. C.

A white man, who was employed for a short time by Samuel Nemorofsky, of the Clifton house, was sent over to Norristown jail last week by Justice Rhoads, before whom a charge of larceny of chickens was preferred by his employer. Suspicion was directed to the man by the persistent disappearance of poultry, and especially at the time Nemorofsky was called away over night. Russell Riley was authorized to keep watch and he apprehended the accused as he was about to board a trolley and in his bag were found several chickens, presumably of the Nemorofsky flock.

The Fort Washington Fire company has posted placards as to the fire calls. Bell phone 203 Ambler. The following phone numbers are located near the fire house: Bell, Ambler 335 R, 235 J, 4574; Keystone, 641 X Ambler.

John Wilkinson, who has been confined in St. Luke's hospital for some time undergoing treatment, has sufficiently recovered to return to his home.

The large trucks of Arbuckle-Gordon company were not halted one day in making deliveries of coal, feed and lumber last week on account of the snow. Several loads of lumber were hauled to a building operation in Willow Grove without getting stuck in the snow.

The blank form contracts for the players of the Montgomery County league have been received by the secretary of the league, Charles Hetzell, and will be sent to the Managers within a short time.

Private Charles Bradley, of the state police stationed at Ambler, arrested James Henry Davis on a warrant charging him with larceny and forgery. The former charge is preferred by Floyd Johnson and the latter by one of the local banks. Davis, who is colored, was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Urban at Ambler and held for the next term of court. It is alleged by the police that Davis, who roomed with Johnson at Hopewell, removed from the latter's suit case of saving fund book and going to the bank he represented himself to be Johnson and after filling out a withdrawal slip he drew $35 and later attempted to erase the entry made by the clerk at the bank. The defendant withdrew the money on Wednesday and on Friday his act was discovered by Johnson who presented the matter to the bank with the above results. This is but one of many cases that speak of the efficiency of Corporal Hanes and his men in rounding up law breakers and the splendid protection afforded our local institutions by the state police.

From what can be learned the report that was being circulated, about a week ago in reference to the local club dropping out of the Montgomery County league appears to be untrue and has no foundation local fans say. What makes the latter statement true is the fact that the officials of the Fort team are planning to make the home club this season the strongest in its history. At present the financial question is giving the officials much concern. However, it is believed that many of the residents will come forward at the proper time and give the needed assistance that the great hopes of the fans for a pennant winning team may be realized. There is no club in the circuit that has as fine a ball park as the local team, and because of this fact it should be the pride of the residents to place upon this field the best possible club.

W. W. Stoker began moving the past week from the Craft property on Summit avenue to Philadelphia. St. Thomas' church, Whitmarsh, has approved plans submitted by John H. Rankin, architect, for the erection of a $35,000 parish building, which will be added to the present structure, along the Springhouse and Chestnut Hill turnpike, Whitmarsh. The building will be of local stone, two stories in height with a basement, and in it will be accommodated all the various church organizations and activities. The committee in charge has been studying over the plans for several months and has visited many similar structures in various local sections, having recently inspected the splendid structure and appointments at the Phoenixville church.

Tickets will be issued this week for the benefit to be held by the fire company in aid of its new chassis fund, which will require about $2000. It is hoped that a generous response will reward the effort of the members, as the necessity for the chassis to carry the chemical machine has been most apparent for some time. With this equipment the company will be in a most satisfactory position to render instant service in case of need. Let's all push together.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, who have been spending several months traveling in Europe, will sail for home on the La France, on April 2. Plans are formulated for a dance to be given at Wissickon hall, Fort Washington, on Easter Monday evening, March 28, for the benefit of the local ball team. A meeting has been called for this Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. Charles A. E. Hetzell, who has the affair in charge.

Charles E. Hersch, of Whitmarsh has been excused from jury duty this week.

This Friday evening the Athletic association will hold a meeting in the Fire house, to discuss several important questions. Everyone interested in Baseball for Fort Washington is asked to lend his help by being present regardless of whether he is a member of the association or not.
